Early Learning
The Complete
Training of the Newborn Foal During
its Imprinting & Critical
Learning Periods

How would you like to raise a foal that leads, ties, is calm, friendly, respectful, obedient, and bonded to you? Early Learning, with Robert M. Miller, D.V.M., will show you how. The procedures thoroughly explained in this videotape, take just minutes to teach during the imprinting and critical learning times, which occur in foals as soon as they are born. After using these techniques, your foal will accept grooming, hoof trimming, clipping, veterinary examinations, trailer loading, and will be comfortable on paper, plastic, strange objects and new experiences. Imprint training is now being used at professional horse breeding farms around the world. Any breed will benefit from this training, from Thoroughbreds and Arabians, to Quarter Horses and Warmbloods. Protect your investment in time, love, and money, by taking advantage of your foal's incredible ability to learn. The time you take right after foaling will benefit you and your horse for a lifetime!

Robert M. Miller, D.V.M., is most familiar to horse lovers through his regular articles and cartoons in Western Horseman magazine, and is the author of Imprint Training of the Newborn Foal, Health Problems of the Horse, Most of My Patients are Animals, and other books. Dr. Miller is also a member of the editorial staff of several publications, including Veterinary Medicine and Veterinary Forum. Following his graduation from Colorado State University in 1956, he founded the Conejo Valley Veterinary Clinic in Thousand Oaks, California. Dr. Miller treated a wide variety of animals besides horses during his 32 years of practice. Now retired, Dr. Miller continues to write, as well as give lectures and seminars internationally.
