

LEG HAIR: IT'S A GOOD THING!

Make working and managing your goat's hair a daily task. When show day arrives, you'll be able to build the perfect leg.

At Home:

- While blowing ProHair100 into the hair, use it as an opportunity to train the hair to stand in the right direction (see photo at right).
- Use the Mini Wide Range Brush and/or Mini Fluffer to get the hair going in an upward direction
- Work the hair in a motion that wraps around and upward.
- After conditioning and training the hair, protect the legs with Goat Leg Wraps , remembering to follow important usage instructions.

At the Show:

- Wash and blow out goat, then apply Sheep & Goat Whitening Powder , allowing the powder plenty of time to dry.
- Using the Mini Wide Range Brush, pull up legs to get hair in the right direction and to separate hair fibers.
- Alternating with the Mini Fluffer, apply Light or Medium Adhesive. Remember to spray a little and comb a lot!
- Once adhesive is dry, clip through the legs to gradually blend the longer and shorter hairs.
- Shape the legs to provide the appearance of bigger bone.
