A Natural Approach To A Healthy Skin & Coat

When applied to the skin, probiotics support the bad bacteria from taking over. Good bacteria serve as a natural defense against the environmental damage and inflammation commonly associated with excessive shedding, itching and dryness, infection and odor.

Gently cleans, and hydrates the skin and coat, leaving fur silky and smooth. Offers comfort and long-lasting relief for pets who suffer from chronic skin irritations.

Directions: Shake well. Wet coat thoroughly with warm water. Apply shampoo+ conditioner from the back of the ears to the tail. Lather & gently massage into coat and skin, being careful to avoid the eyes. Rinse well repeat as necessary.
