Functional Proteins to support overall health

Smooth, easy mixing with water

Concentrated for tiny bellies

Protect All Species is the only colostrum supplement with 20% added fat plus carbohydrates for a burst of energy. Protect can be fed in addition to maternal colostrum to animals that may not have nursed, or after colostrum to animals that didn't receive enough maternal colostrum. The serum-based formulation also delivers 50 grams of globulin protein to help nutritionally support animals facing environmental challenges.

Feeding Directions:

Feed as soon as possible after birth or for long term benefits: Mix Protect All Species with warm (105°F/40°C) water. Stir until completely dissolved. Only mix enough powder for one feeding at a time. Animal body weight varies. The mixing chart below is a guideline.
