

Helpful Hints:

Sullivan's Blizzard Heavy Powderful

Heavier Concentration of Powder:

- One can of Blizzard Powder'ful carries nearly 3x as much product in its concentration than our Original White Powder'ful
- Heavier concentration means more coverage in fewer passes

High Velocity Spray Output:

- Blizzard Powder'ful is equipped with a high velocity spray tip, allowing the powder to penetrate deep into the hair coat and build the follicle from the inside out.
- The high output spray pattern, allows for optimal coverage with less product usage
- This can should be sprayed from a distance of 18-24" from the desired area

The technology in Blizzard is all new to the world of livestock grooming.

So... take note, during the learning curve that...

"Less Is More"

How to Use Blizzard:

1. Apply Sullivan's Tail Adhesive to form the hair into the desired position.
2. Lightly Puff a coat of Blizzard onto the hair and clip to the desired shape.
3. Alternate coats of Tail Adhesive and Blizzard to build and thicken the hair follicles.

Using light puffs of Blizzard from 18-24" away from the fitting area*

4. Once you are finished building the hair, the final step is to completely cover with the Sullivan's Touch-Up of your choosing.
